Washington, D.C. (August 17, 2011) – During Glynn Jackson’s ShowBiz Kids Model and Talent Competition on September 18th, the “Exceptional Teen of the DMV” Award will be given to an outstanding teen who has demonstrated exceptional involvement with his or her community and an unflinching commitment to community service. We are currently looking for nominees for the award. The winner must be present in order to receive the award.

“Glynn Jackson the Agency is a small business that just wants to show the young people in the DMV that their hard work and perseverance to become productive citizens has not gone unnoticed,” Glynn Jackson, the owner of Glynn Jackson the Agency, said. “This award will honor a teen that has given himself or herself selflessly to their community in an effort to facilitate memorable change.”

“This award,” Jackson continued, “is a small gesture of appreciation for a teen who has gone ‘above and beyond’ to stay on the right track to success and become a positive member of their community.”

Lance London, who is the owner of Carolina Kitchen Restaurants, located in Largo and Hyattsville, Maryland, and a successful area businessman, has graciously agreed to present the “Exceptional Teen of the DMV” Award to the winner at the show.

“I am honored to be able to present this award because, as a business owner, I firmly believe it is my responsibility to nurture and provide guidance to the youth in my community.” London said. “I strongly urge other businesses to do the same in their communities.”
